Mounting Problems Close Chouteau Island Landfill

Shutdown of the Chouteau Island landfill, apparently by voluntary action of its owner, was attributed Friday to the closing of the Madison-owned Chain of Rocks bridge for repairs and other mounting problems that has harassed the landfill operators for the past two years. Jack Clifford, Madison county building and zoning administrator, said that he was notified the gates to the landfill were closed 5 p.m. Thursday and that the action was voluntary. He said he understood employees were cleaning up the operation, and that the landfill probably will open again at a later date. The shutdown, however, followed announcement last week that the Chouteau Island landfill, operated by Samuel Murphy, St. Louis attorney, was among six in the area notified by the State Health Department that the sites were not operating in compliance with state rules and regulations.

$25 Million Gas Line Extensions To Include Area

A $25 million pipeline expansion program that will include 5.5 miles of new line connections in the Quad-City area, was announced today by Mississippi River Transmission Corp. ## Downtown GC May Get Highrise Apartment

Planners Foresee Mall, New Throughfares, 6 Schools, Parks by 1985

Future plans for Granite City outlined Thursday night for a group of about 30 civic leaders by its preliminary high-rise apartment and a mall in the downtown district, along with six new grade schools, three new junior high schools and double the number of parks and playgrounds.

The 20-year program was given its preliminary airing under the comprehensive plan being completed by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission. Included in the planning is the area of the entire Granite City school district as well as the city, park district and the housing authority, which have joined forces for the joint planning program.

Theodore Mikesell, director for SIMAPC, stressed the continuing need for co-operation between the local governmental agencies to develop a planned growth pattern beneficial to all residents.

Growth Policy Needed
He emphasized the need for the city to develop a written annexation policy to outline steps to be taken, what services are to be provided and when, and a detailed outline of costs. He suggested the agencies consider a 5-to-10 year capital improvement program.

The initial meeting to study the preliminary reports of the planning agency was held in the city hall and was attended by members and representatives of the city council, school board, park board, housing authority, City Plan Commission, local developers and interested citizens.

Another meeting is planned for 7 p.m. Wednesday to take (Continued on page 7, col. 5)

Mitchell Water District Outlines Sewer Plans

Tentative sewer construction plans for the Mitchell area have been projected for an ultimate population of 22,064 persons in the 4877 acres now included in the Mitchell Public Water District, according to a feasibility study prepared by Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, Granite City engineers.

Present population of the area, based on an actual count of homes, trailers and commercial establishments, is 4526 persons and is sufficient to finance installation of the proposed $15 million sewer program, through issuance of revenue bonds, the report states.

The study has been presented to the water district board for further steps, first of which is expected to be a door-to-door canvass of district residents to determine how many homes owners will pledge use of the sewer lines if they were constructed. Edward Jeneau of the engineering firm, in outlining details of the report to a public meeting of Mitchell residents pointed out that a sufficient number of sewer users would have to be guaranteed to permit sale of bonds.

Man, 36, Killed, 25 Persons Hurt In Area Crashes

Fatal Mishap at Rte. 3, Old 66 Intersection; 2 Pedestrians Struck

The dangerous Route 3-Chain of Rocks road intersection claimed the life of a Jerseyville man, in a collision that injured three persons at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Area crashes over the weekend accounted for the one death and 25 injuries in 29 traffic accidents.

Dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital was Mark M. Robben, 38, and injured were his wife Phyllis, 35, who was admitted to the hospital with multiple cuts to her head, left leg and right hand and their son, Anthony, 3½, who was treated for head cuts and lacerations to his left arm and knee. They were riding in a van-type vehicle driven by Robben.

Robben, a welder at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant, was the driver of a 1965 Pontiac coupe, a service station at the intersection. He was given treatment for multiple cuts.

Also Injured was the driver of the auto, Richard Long, 25, of 18 Fairway Estates, operator of a service station at the intersection. He was given treatment for multiple cuts.

The intersection has been the scene of numerous crashes in the past 18 months and is currently being surveyed by the state highway department to determine the need for electric traffic controls.

Two Pedestrians Hit
Two pedestrians were struck and injured on the Chain of Rocks road about 180 feet north of Maryland road.

Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Philip Fanning, 22, of 4832 Mueller avenue, who was treated for an abrasion on his nose and chest pains, and his wife, Linda, 20, who suffered back pains and severe abrasions to the left hip and both legs. They were treated and transferred to Scott Air Force base hospital.

State police said the car was driven by James Farmer, 23, of Troy. He told police he was driving north and was passing another car when he saw three persons crossing the highway from the south. He swerved to the left, but as he did so two of the pedestrians also ran in that direction.

Plan Committee To Study County Park Program

Establishment of a special county board committee to study the feasibility of a county park and recreational program will be recommended at the February Board meeting by members of the Steering and Rules committees. It was reported Friday.

Leslie Prehn, chairman of the steering committee, said he recommended the committee be made to Board Chairman Harold Landolt along with the suggestion that the new committee be instructed to make a preliminary report on park and recreational developments that could be undertaken at county level.

Request that such a committee be set up was made by Alton May, Alton assistant supervisor, at the September 1967 board meeting following Gov. Kerner's veto of a $400,000 state appropriation for development of the Horseshoe Lake area as a park and recreational project. The state fund was to have been used to purchase 1700 acres of lake bottomland as the first step in an expansive development program.

Previous requests have been made to the county board to develop park and recreational areas, but action at a county level never has been taken.

Accidental Touch-off Friday

New Alarm System Brings Instant Response to Hospital

Instant response from three fire companies caused excitement in the vicinity of St. Elizabeth Hospital at 11:45 a.m. Friday when the hospital's new automatic fire alarm system was touched off accidentally.

It was a matter of only a few minutes after the accidental alarm that fire trucks rolled up to the hospital from the main station and West Granite and Namooki road stations along with Fire Chief Earl Fronabarger and Assistant Chief Curtis Donley in their vehicles.

Assistant Chief Donley and nine men would respond from all three fire companies. If the fire was of any size, more equipment would be dispatched. The Granite City Army Depot would be called upon and all off-duty city firemen would be called in.

If there should be a third alarm, more equipment and firefighters from Madison and Venice would assist.

In discussing the accidental alarm, Fire Chief Fronabarger said that with the first alarm from the hospital he is confident we are able to cope with any such emergency.

"As it turned out, this was an excellent test for our six-week-old alarm system that goes directly to the fire station."

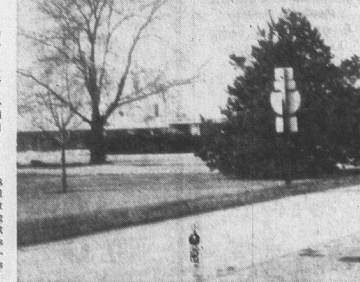

"The instantaneous response from the fire department was even more than we hoped for. I'm sure everyone here at the hospital is confident we are able to cope with any such emergency."

Patrols are limited due to the size of the county's unincorporated area and the variety of duties handled by deputies, who often are delayed hours or days in responding to calls for assistance.

"Drag racing" has been reported along the Chain of Rocks road and Old Altan road. Incorporation opponents counter by saying that state police and other officers residing in the area are delayed hours or days in responding to calls for assistance.

Water-Air-Recreation Plan Outlined in Book

Booklets summarizing the proposed Illinois program for pure water, clean air and quality outdoor recreation are now available to the public from the Department of Business and Economic Development.

Availability of the booklet to organizations and individuals was announced by Gene H. Graves, director of the department.

Graves said, "This publication presents, in non-technical language, a clear and accurate assessment of Illinois' resource problems and suggests appropriate remedies. It offers evidence of the need for the broad action program to be financed by the proposed $1 billion resource development bond issue."

Called the "Water Plan Booklet," the illustrated report condenses into 32 pages the major findings and recommendations of the comprehensive study, "Water for Illinois, A Plan for Action."

The Water Plan itself formed the basis for legislation enacted last year to provide for allocating the $1 billion and administering the program—subject to approval of the statewide bond issue referendum next Nov. 5.

Prominent on the booklet's front and back covers is a colorful design that will serve as the symbol for the proposed statewide program. It depicts the total environment—water, land and air—and represents both urban and rural settings. Both booklets and symbols will be used extensively by the Illinoisans for Pure Air and Water Committee, a cross-section of state residents who will work to inform the public of issues involved in the proposed resource development program.

William L. Rutherford of Peoria and Maynard P. Venema of Northfield have been selected by Gov. Otto Kerner as committee co-chairmen. Rutherford is an attorney and Venema is a petroleum executive.

Leading Summer Camps In Midwest Described

For parents seeking ideas for their youngsters' vacation activity and for young people looking for summer employment, a new directory listing more than 50 of the leading midwestern boys' and girls' summer camps has just been published by the Midwest Association of Private Camps.

The directories are now available, without charge, by writing to the association at 1899a Bowerth lane, Northfield, Ill. 60063.

Association officials point out that parents may go "camp shopping" with greatest confidence by use of the new directory. Each camp listed is accredited by the American Camping Association.

To maintain this national accreditation, camps must observe rigid standards in health, personnel, sanitation, transportation, equipment, programming and administrative phases.

The directory contains a wealth of information on the individual camps—campers' programs, location, length of camp, term, costs, camper ages, off-season addresses of camp directors and other miscellaneous information.

To assist those needing additional information on the camps, or additional directors for their friends, there is a tear-out, postage-paid reply card.

Several thousand summer positions, usually filled by athletic coaches, teachers, college students and others, are available, association officials report. Minimum age requirements is 18; minimum educational background is two years of college.

Review Board Time Extension Granted

Official action extending the time for completion of assessment work by the Madison County Board of Review to Feb. 19 was announced Friday by the State Department of Revenue. The request was made by the Madison review board several weeks ago and the board has been working with the Feb. 19 date as a deadline.

The state revenue department said the time extension of 30 days was effective Jan. 21. State statutes require the board to complete its work by Dec. 31 of the calendar year. The review board, however, obtained a 20-day extension by resolution of the county board of supervisors, and then petitioned for the additional 30 days to the state revenue department.

The additional time was requested to hear protests and revise assessments in nine Madison county townships—including Granite City and Nameki—in an effort to eliminate a potential state multiplier for 1967 valuations.

War, Economy, Urban Aid Top U. S. Problems -- Cong. Price

The war in Vietnam, the urban crisis and the state of the nation's economy will be top problems attracting attention of the second session of the 90th Congress, Cong. Melvin Price, (D) East St. Louis, told 150 persons attending a Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce legislative conference at the Granite City Army Depot Friday afternoon.

At the same time he predicted that progress toward solution of these pressing problems may be inhibited by the fact that 1968 is a presidential election year "and the legislative output may be influenced by factors not otherwise present."

Speaking before the group of business and industrial leaders in the Army Depot officers quarters following a noon luncheon, Congressman Price declared that "Vietnam is the overriding issue in the every legislative decision made and it requires every consideration possible."

Toured Southeast Asia Although he returned only recently from a tour of Southeast Asia, Cong. Price did not detail his overseas experiences except to say that the experience had convinced him "that our men know why they are there."

"They are doing a tremendous job," he added, "and they deserve our full support. . . . Can I further assure you that the Congress will continue approving the necessary funds to support them. To do otherwise is inconceivable and unacceptable."

He described the urban crisis as "the most pressing domestic problem we have." Despite budgetary restraints, funds are being requested to move ahead with the urban-oriented programs, the congressman declared.

High on the list of issues demanding immediate action, he said, is final Congressional approval of the Safe Streets and Crime Prevention Act.

That bill was passed by the House last year and is now awaiting Senate approval in the new session. It is designed, he said, to assist local law enforcement agencies improve their crime detection and crime prevention programs.

"It is clearly recognized that law enforcement is a local responsibility," the Congressman said, "and it is clearly recognized that the federal role is to provide local officials with resources for developing improved techniques for combating crime."

Manpower High Priority President Johnson's manpower program also has high priority for congressional attention this year, Cong. Price said.

"Its purpose," he noted, "is to utilize the talents and expertise of private industry for meeting the critical unemployment problems we face, one of the most explosive issues confronting us." He described the new proposal as an outgrowth of an existing cooperative government-industry test venture in five target cities.

The program calls for training of 100,000 hard-core unemployed.

GC Tops Belleville In SW Tilt - 53-48

The Granite City high school basketball team scored a win over Southwestern Conference rival Belleville West, 53-48, Friday on the Maroon's home court. The quarter scores were 16-11, 31-21, and 42-32.

This is the first time since the fall of 1960 that the Maroons have been beaten by the Warriors on the Belleville court.

Coach Don Deterding commented, "We won through our defense. We held Wiley to only 11 points, and he has been getting about 25 a game."

"It was the smartest that we have played all year."

"Both teams broke fast, but once they started their offensive plays, the pace slowed down and was more deliberate. Belleville never got a shot off that we didn't have our hand in the air and really tried to block."

The Maroons hit 19 of 61 shots for a 31% shooting average.

"We hit 20 of 49 for 40%, but that is quite a bit better than we have been doing lately."

Gary Simpson lead the Warrior scoring as he pumped in 28 points. Also scoring for the Warriors were Jeff Jones 12, John Van Buskirk 10, Gary Ridenour two and Mike White one.

Park Baseball Coaches Will Meet Feb. 12

Managers and coaches for the Granite City park district baseball program will have their first meeting of the year at 7 p.m. Monday Feb. 12, at the Community Center, Niedringhaus avenue and Spruce street.

The meeting will be headed by Harold Brown, park superintendent, and Ron Dillard, athletic director. Plans for the 1968 season will be discussed as a review of all new and old rules.

The park district program, one of the largest in this region, continues to expand from year to year. Additional managers and coaches are being asked to attend the meeting.

Also, any boys not already on a team and wanting to play baseball this summer may call the park district office, 877-3089, and leave his name and age. Boys eligible for the program are from 7-17.

Initial 1968 Park Softball Talks Feb. 13

The initial meeting of managers and coaches of all softball teams competing in the Granite City park district program will be held at the Community Center Feb. 13 at 7 p.m.

All managers and coaches are being asked to attend, and anyone interested in entering a team in the program also should be present. Ron Dillard, athletic director for the park district, will be in charge of the meeting.

Discussions will include plans for the coming season and a review of all rules and regulations.

Future Coaches Hear Randle

Professional football star Sonny Randle spoke Friday to 30 physical education students at the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University. The San Francisco 49er-Niner end, speaking at 9 a.m. in the University Center, cautioned prospective coaches to "be yourselves" when dealing with young high school or college players.

"In other words," Randle said, "don't pretend to be something you aren't."

He said young people respect honesty and frankness and are "more willing to work for you within your own limits."

He stated a coach must display conviction and sincerity before he can expect the same from his players.

Randle, who also is sports director for KSD-TV, indicated that high schools and colleges are turning gradually to the professional football offense. He said the old style offense will have a hard time competing in today's contest.

Randle spoke to the physical education class at the request of Bob Guehr, soccer coach and an instructor in the health, recreational and physical education faculty. The course is concerned with coaching theories.

Warrior Matmen Win Over Alton 47-3

The Granite City high school wrestling team defeated Alton for the second time this season 47-3, taking the victory on the Red Bird's mats Friday night. The Warriors now are set for their last two conference matches. Next Friday night they wrestle a double-header against East St. Louis at 5 p.m. and against Belleville West at 7:30 p.m.

If the Warriors can win the first match against East St. Louis, they will be the Southwestern Conference champions. The only match the Flyers have lost this season was to the Warriors—and that was on forfeit.

Winning for the Warriors Friday night on pins were Mike Christopher (170) 1-51, Tom Niebur (133) 3-20, Drew Shands (138) 1-16, Frank Mehelec (145) 4-45, Alex (154) 4-50 and Dan James (nw) 5-09.

Decision winners were Fay Burcham (120) 4-3, Allen Bridgeman (102) 2-4, and Sam Nighdoshian (165) 9-4. The only loss was John Kearby (180) 8-2.

Coach Bill Schmidt predicted his Warriors "will be in the best shape possible Friday night barring any injuries between now and then. Bill Gibson got his doctor's release last week and will hope to be in shape. We will have the best in each weight class ready to go."

Baseball rules by which the park district is governed state that players between the ages of 7-9 are classified as Atom; 10-11, Bantams; 12-13, Midgets; 14-15, Juniors; and 16-17, Juniors.

The classification of age is determined from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 of each year. If at any time during the calendar year a boy's age falls in a category, he can play baseball with that age group.

The only exception to this rule is that a first-year Atom player must be seven years old before May 1 of the current year.

Venice Rally Defeats 1st-Place Bunker Hill

The Venice high school Red Devil basketball team is now within a half game of first place in the Madison-Clinton-Macoupin Counties Conference.

Venice handed the Bunker Hill Minutemen their first MCM loss of the season Friday night, downing the Red Devils 64-41. Bunker Hill had led at each of the quarters, 15-4, 35-25, 45-24, and 55-24.

The Red Devils trail the Minutemen by 2 to 6-1. Venice Coach Bill Ohlendorf said after the game that he did not think the Minutemen would again be beaten in the conference.

The Minutemen did lose a non-league game 55-52 to Piasa Saturday night.

Venice season record is 15-4.

18th Venice Victory

Coach Ohlendorf noted that mistakes in the first half almost cost the Red Devils the game. He reported that such floor errors as bad passes and ball turnovers were abundant.

At halftime, down by 12 points, Venice regrouped and doubled the enemy score in the third period. In the last half the Red Devils were able to take 40 shots at the basket compared to 30 in the first half and cut their ball losses to four.

Use Pressing Defense

Venice was aided by an effective defensive press. The Minutemen lost the ball 11 times at key points in the game.

Scoring for Venice were Frank Glover 17, John Gardner 11, Russ Turner 11, Fessor Gray 11, Larry Mosby nine, Tom McClain three and George McIntyre, two.

Venice lost 73-71 to Bunker Hill here Dec. 12 and also dropped a league game to Worden. It has beaten Livingston twice, Breese, Aviston, St. Paul, Highland and Bunker Hill.

Nine-Ball Tournay Preliminary Tuesday

The Tri-City Cue Center, 708 Madison avenue, Madison, will host a nine-ball preliminary tournament starting tomorrow at 7 p.m. Single eliminations will be 11 out of 20 games and a two-shot rollout.

The finals will be held at 7 p.m. in the local regional at basketball tournament starting today at the high school. Tickets for all games will total $2.25.

First and second place trophies will be awarded in the finals, plus $200 first prize, $100 second prize and $50 third prize.

Season Fans Can Buy Regional Tickets

Season ticket holders for home games of the Granite City high school Fighting Warriors basketball team may buy their tickets to the Granite City regional basketball tournament starting today at the high school. Tickets for all games will total $2.25.

The tournament will begin March 4 and run through March 8 at the GCIS Memorial gym. Teams in the local regional tournament will be Granite City, Madison, Collinsville, Alton, East St. Louis, Roxana, Wood River and Marquette of Alton.

The survivor will advance to sectional play leading to the state championship tournament.

The Madison Trojans moved into a first-place tie in Miss. western Conference basketball competition Friday night by defeating the Roxana Shells 69-60 at the Trojans' gym. It was their 15th win in 18 starts this season.

MHS is now tied with the Cahokia Comanches for the conference lead, each having a 5-1 league record. Bethalto is 5-2, Duplo 7-3, Highland 1-5, Roxana 1-6 and Tipton 1-7.

The Trojans are to play conference games against Duplo and Highland this week and then await the Comanches next Tuesday on the Madison court.

Coach John Logan, although his team won the game, was not satisfied with its performance. "We had a great deal of trouble controlling the ball and, most of all, we just couldn't maneuver properly against the full court press."

Marksmanship Falters

"We missed quite a few shots that should have been made and that is going to hurt if we can't snap out of it. You can't miss good shots and expect to win all the time."

Regardless of who we are playing, the team that gets the most rebounds is likely to come out the winner. In the first half we were ineffective in getting defensive rebounds. In the second half, Titus Shipps played a good defensive game and with his seven rebounds on defense we were able to maintain our lead."

MHS led only 15-14 after the first quarter and 35-32 at halftime but earned a 54-44 advantage by the end of the third period.

The Trojans hit 24 of 58 shots for 41%.

Leading the Trojans with 22 points was Gary Lusk, who fouled out early in the third quarter. Joe Collins had 15. Shipps 13, Tom Weston 12, Keith Williams three, Dale Clinton two and Jim Scott and Oscar Hagler, one each.

Wild Assortment of Records at SIU-SW's Library

To persons born before 1930 the music of the present "turned-on" generation may cause shudders, but the same individuals might actually blanch at what Southern Illinois University research music collection at the Southwestern campus indicates was popular in their day.

A gift of an extensive private music collection to Lovejoy Library from Mrs. John S. Chao of Collinsville proves the older generation liked swinging music. The gift, made through Friends of the Library, consists of a private library of predominantly American music collected by her musician father, the late Walter Dellers, containing more than 9000 titles. First title in the music collection catalog is "Aba Daba Honeymoon," the last is "Zulu Wall." And in between these are all those improbable titles that do seem a little weird in retrospect — "Three Little Fishes" (Boop Boop Bittens-Dorsten What-tem Chai) (1939), "The Music Goes 'Round and Around" (1935), "Ja Da" (Ja Da Ja Da Da Da Jing Jing Jing) (1918), "Hut-sut Song" (1941), "A Hot Dog, A Blanket and a Hot Dog" (1931), "Pickie in the Middle (And The Mustard on Top)" (1946), and "Piggy Wiggy Woo" (1939).

The gift from Mrs. Chao includes music of many types covering a period from 1890 to the 1960s, according to Miss Mabel Murphy, fine arts librarian at Lovejoy Library. "The Dellers music collection includes operatic arias and semi-classical songs, violin solos, and vocal selections from musical revues, as well as popular tunes," Miss Murphy said. "Many of these things could not be purchased now," she said, "and even those that could be found would cost many times their original price. This collection will be invaluable to research studies in American music."

The Dellers collection was accompanied by a meticulous catalog, rarely found in private libraries, Miss Murphy said, making the collection much more valuable. Mr. Dellers, a violin coach of vocal ensembles who spent most of his musical career in Chicago, lived in Collinsville the last two years of his life.

The Dellers collection will join Lovejoy Library's large and rapidly growing research collection of many other thousands of band and orchestral arrangements and sheet music. Miss Murphy said the library is eager to receive gifts of all types of music as additions to the research collection, regardless of the number of items available.

Medical Self-Help Course To Be Offered at CD Hq.

A "Medical Self-Help" course, designed to help the individual prepare for survival if disaster strikes and there is no doctor available, will be taught in an eight-part series starting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Granite City civil defense headquarters building, 1411 Nineteenth street.

The course was developed by the Public Health Service with the cooperation of the U. S. Office of Civil Defense and is endorsed by the American Medical Association and other national health organizations.

Granite City CD Director Victor H. Koenig said today the medical self-help course is the first training program of its type to be offered local residents. Interested persons may register at the CD center tomorrow evening, with the initial series limited to 25 participants.

Another in 2 Weeks

"We have frequently received inquiries about this kind of training," the director said, adding that a second course probably will get under way in about two weeks for those unable to be accommodated in the initial program.

Taught by qualified instructors, including two registered nurses, advocates of "Medical Self-Help" training stress the instruction could be invaluable to individuals and families who may face serious health problems for days or even weeks without the assistance of a physician.

Such an emergency might arise while vacationing in an isolated area, during a natural disaster, or even a nuclear attack, OGD officials state. In such circumstances, the Medical Self-Help Training Course will give the individual a greater capacity to survive; it may well mean the difference between life and death.

Given at No Cost

The training program will be presented, without cost to participants, in eight weekly sessions, each consisting of two hours. All classes will begin at 7:30 p.m. on consecutive Tuesday evenings.

For the Young People

West Granite Group Plans Fund Campaign

Members of the West Granite Youth Development Committee, a group working toward the betterment of young people under the auspices of the Illinois Youth Commission, have initiated a fund-raising campaign to help the organization further its goals.

Founded by neighborhood people for the sole purpose of promoting the general development of youth, members of the committee stress their activities are non-political, non-sectarian and non-partisan. The organization has been incorporated under the not-for-profit act.

At a recent meeting, Parker Hurst, 2017 Dewey avenue, was elected president, with Richard Ficker, 2300 Ohio avenue, chosen vice-president, and Mrs. Ficker named secretary. It was learned this week, the newly-elected president will shortly leave the community and an election to replace him is planned.

The committee holds general bi-monthly meetings at Washington school, which are open to the public. Informal sessions are scheduled when immediate action is considered necessary.

Aims of Organization

Aims of the group include assisting in organizing neighborhood block clubs and similar groups; organizing neighborhood recreational activities and help in their development; provide various leadership and education activities; seek to enrich the environmental and experience of youth; fight delinquency and its causes, and coordinating the efforts of all existing groups to the total benefit of the young person.

A spokesman for the Youth Development Committee, stated, "We believe in grass roots enterprise. We are neighbors and feel that we know what is needed for our children. We aim to bring projects into the West Granite area that may have missed us, or failed on the first attempt."

"In order to be successful in our own efforts, we cooperate with all groups," the spokesman said. "Our committee works closely with the Illinois Youth Commission; sends delegates to meetings of the Quad-Cities Social Concerns Council; works with the police department, PTAs, Coordinated Youth Services; also with Boy Scouts and many other organizations."

Presently, the committee is compiling a mailing list in addition to formulating an introductory brochure which outlines the intentions of the organization.

Representatives of the West Granite group also are discussing its purpose with area businessmen and individual citizens.

In the hope of raising sufficient funds to cover operational costs. All those serving with the organization, do so on a voluntary, unpaid basis, the spokesman said.

Sp4 Burress Cited for 'Copter Gunship Work

Sp4 William L. Burress of Granite City, a crew chief on a helicopter gunship, received special acclaim for his work in Vietnam recently.

He is a member of the "Black Angels" of Co. B fire teams A and B in the 101st Airborne division's aviation battalion which killed 14 Viet Cong in their first week of combat support since arriving in Vietnam.

Eleven of the kills came while supporting ground operations of the 3rd Battalion (Airborne), 187th Infantry in War Zone D.

"We got a call when another supporting aviation unit's gunships expended their ammunition and the men on the ground needed continuous support," said W. O. Clyde O. Wilburn, Birmingham, Ala. "We were on target 10 minutes later. The infantry troops told us the next day we were credited with 11 kills."

In another action, the "Black Angels" were called to help repel an enemy attack against an ARVN Ranger camp north-east of Bien Hoa.

"Our gunships blasted the target area for 30 minutes," said W. O. William E. Whitaker, Fayetteville, N. C. "We raced over to the Song Be airfield, refueled, armed and resumed the attack. That was the shortest amount of ground time I've experienced. The crews were outstanding."

WM. L. BURRESS

Ground observers confirmed three VC killed by the Black Angel gunners and reported large pools of blood around the ranger camp.

W. O. Leon P. Morris, Maquoketa, Ia., praised Burress and his two gunners for their professional teamwork and zeal.

Proposed Services

General area, together with on-duty state troopers, have been fairly successful in discouraging such law violations.

Advocates stress that village police officers would be quickly available to cope with prowlers, dog packs, traffic violators, disturbances and other problems.

Plan $1-a-Year Salaries

Opponents question whether $1-a-year marshals—the police force which is planned—would be effective in coping with crime throughout the village and at all hours of the day and night.

"Strong" zoning and a "reasonable" building code are proposed. The goals are to encourage residential construction while avoiding unsafe building standards; to seek industrial plants; and to screen out laundromats, health clubs or other establishments that might attract unsavory elements during "see hours" operations.

Other municipalities would be contacted for guidance in setting up such ordinances, and officials of existing villages are being utilized in the campaign to describe advantages found from creation of such municipalities elsewhere in this region.

Dual Township-Village Roads

It is planned to contract with Chouteau township road system to continue maintenance of streets in the area that would become a part of the village. Equipment, manpower and services also are contemplated.

No change in fire protection, which is provided by the Mitchell fire district, has been discussed.

Novosel and Wenzel have publicly indicated some dissatisfaction with the Mitchell public water district and have raised the prospect of an effort by the village to detach itself from the water system.

The water district currently is developing preliminary plans for a sanitary sewer system, and there has been some exploration by the village proponents of proposing sewer construction by the village as a selling point for incorporation.

Desire for sewer services is regarded as widespread in the Mitchell-Chouteau area.

Licenses, Sales Taxes

How would the village government finance its purchases of supplies and equipment and its payments to those remunerated above the $1-a-year level? Sponekan has informed the Press-Record that a variety of resources would be used to supplement property taxes.

He included motel and business licenses, saying they presently amount to about $300 a year and are paid to the Madison county treasurer. These would be collected instead by the village, since the territory would no longer be unincorporated, he said, adding that there are 20 to 30 businesses.

Motor fuel taxes collected by the state would be allocated to the village on the basis of its population, Sponekan said.

He estimated that a sales tax at three-fourths of a cent per dollar of sales might provide up to $35,000 a year for the village treasury. However, Mitchell area sales reported by the Illinois Department of Revenue indicate a village tax of less than $13,000 a year.

Most Willing to Run

While a village president has not been picked, most of those in the group actively supporting incorporation are willing to run for trustee positions, Sponekan reported.

Election of officials would take place in a later special vote if incorporation is approved in the Feb. 26 balloting. He estimates a potential turnout of 800 to 900 voters, several hundred higher than the 500 to 600 projected by Arthur Boyle, Rural Route Two, one of the principal opponents of incorporation.

Boyle notes with apprehension that 4000 ballots were printed despite the fact that there will be only one polling place.

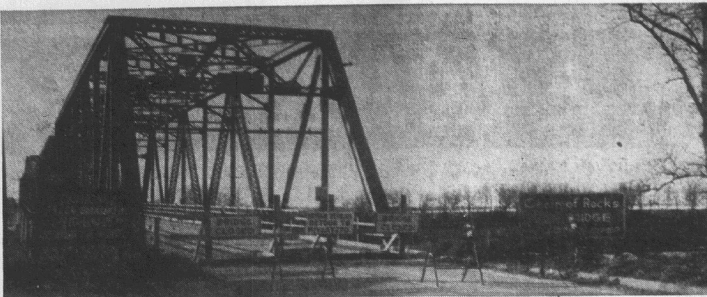

Boyle has been successful in having one of the five poll judges—who were recommended by Attorney Francis Manning, counsel for the incorporators — replaced by Boyle's wife.

Fears Illegal Votes

He says poll observers will not be allowed to challenge voters, and has expressed concern that persons not actually residing within the proposed village area may seek to cast ballots.

Boyle's principal allegation is that the village would be in danger of being operated by persons with political motivation rather than by people interested solely in serving the public.

He is not convinced that the incorporation movement

CLOSED FOR REPAIRS is the Madison owned Chain of Rocks bridge that prompted a decision to close nearby Chouteau Island Landfill. Wet weather, competition from a new dump and pressure from state health officials have added to problems of operating landfill. Madison officials say bridge will be closed from two to three weeks for replacement of an expansion joint. The barricades had been pushed aside by Sunday.

MORE ABOUT

saying that "intimidation of his customers" by the State Health Department was another factor in deciding to close down, at least temporarily. Hauling of garbage and trash from St. Louis became a major topic in a legislative hearing at East St. Louis last week and members of the Commission on Air Pollution said it will refer the Chouteau Island landfill matter to another state commission investigating garbage and trash disposal.

Want Dump Closed

A citizens group has been waging an unrelenting battle to close the dump. Members of the group have charged that open burning causes air pollution, refuse remains uncovered at the landfill for long periods, resulting in an unbearable stench and a plentiful supply of rats.

Allen Smith, manager of the landfill, said the closing was due to wet weather and the nature of the bridge, and not the result of recent pressure from state and county officials regarding the landfill operation.

Mayor Stephen Maerz said that "unfortunately" the Chain of Rocks bridge will be closed for two to three weeks because of the nature of the repairs. He said an expansion joint must be removed and a replacement part machined because parts of that kind are no longer available. Cost is expected to range from $700 to $10,000.

"If the shutdown of this type would last only two or three days, but replacement of developed only after comments Nov. 6 by Fifth Ward Alderman Walter Nunn that Granite City is "hemmed in for future growth" and should consider expansion.

Annexation of thousands of acres of land to the west and north of the city, including Mitchell area subdivisions in the vicinity of Route Three and Interstate 270, was proposed at that council meeting.

This discussion generated a "gobbling up" fear voiced publicly by such people as Mrs. Ferd Segar, who says Nunn is a distant relative but is not the kind of municipal official she wants governing her.

She has been an articulate foe of landfill operations on Chouteau Island and has expressed the hope that the proposed Chouteau village could grow toward existing dumps and adopt restrictions that would make it difficult for landfills to operate in the vicinity.

Proposed School Campus

The annexation fear also was stimulated by a Nov. 13 vote by the Granite City school board to seek to acquire a 65-acre tract at the future relocation of the Maryville Road-Route 203 intersection. It would be used as a junior high school site or possibly as a grade school location and administrative center and storage warehouse site.

The community unit school district already includes all of the Mitchell area and is a separate governmental agency from any city or village. To avoid services, it has arranged for municipal annexation of Maryville grade school and Grigsby junior high school, the latter opposed in court by the Nannetti town board.

Those "stamped out" by such developments visualize a future attempt by the city government to block establishment of a Chouteau village and urge haste to avoid it. Minimum separation is one mile, which only a fraction of the present distance between Granite City and the proposed village.

An attorney who addressed a public meeting held Dec. 3 to review incorporation advantages estimated it would be a half-century before Granite City could encircle the Mitchell area to the point that it could be annexed to Granite City without residents' consent.

sions, 140 acres in present and potential commercial locations, 2966 acres in industrial land, 724 acres of unplatted land and 940 acres of marsh land.

Future population estimates are based on ratios of 3.5 persons to each dwelling, ten persons per acre of unplatted land zoned for industry, two persons per acre of marshland, the report asserts.

Janeau said financing of the project is based currently on an estimated monthly rental charge of $5 per dwelling, although that figure could be less depending upon the availability of federal aid.

The plan also provides a sewer connection charge of $100 per unit that is connected to the sewers within six months after completion. The tap-on duty training at the Marine Corps Air Station at Yuma, Ariz.

Increased Waste Volume

The study states that "the lack of sanitary sewage facilities in the developed area of the Mitchell Public Water District presents a health hazard and a serious obstacle to continued growth. The completion of the water improvement which provides an abundant water supply for domestic use coupled with it the problem of disposing of an increased volume of domestic wastes."

"The poor absorption qualities of soil covering soil in which existing underground absorption tiles are laid contribute to overflowing septic tanks and an accompanying pollution problem."

Sewage treatment would be a long-range system. The report points out that "the sewage collected in the system of sanitary sewers will require a high degree of purification since the effluent from the treatment facilities will discharge into the ditch of the Chouteau, Nannetti & Venice Drainage District which affords little or no dilution."

"To meet this standard of treatment and still provide a financially feasible project practically limits the choice of treatment facilities to the use of Waste Stabilization Lagoons... the cost of construction of this type of sewage treatment is approximately 50% of any comparative process and maintenance expense is limited mainly to mowing grass and keeping fence around the facilities in good repair."

Contract negotiations between Boilermakers Union 575 and A. O. Smith Corp. resumed at 10 a.m. today after lengthy meetings Thursday and Friday in which union and company representatives reported varying results.

Negotiating teams met with federal mediators in St. Louis Thursday until 11:15 p.m. and again Friday from 2 p.m. until 3:30 p.m. in an effort to settle snafu issues, only major terms of the contract discussed thus far.

The strike of 1200 members of the Boilermakers Union went into its 36th day this morning. They walked off their jobs on Jan. 1 following expiration of their old contract. The A. O. Smith plant which manufactures auto frames for General Motors has been shut down since the strike began.

Group Hopes to Keep Gas, Sales Taxes in Village

Tax funds now going to Madison county and Chouteau township can be diverted to the proposed village of Chouteau, proponents pointed out at a public meeting Saturday afternoon at the Fun and Sun building. About 75 attended.

A committee composed of James Greer, Arno Spomenan, Elmer Wenzel and Steve Novak reported that about $4700 could be derived yearly as half of the township road and bridge funds for maintenance of non-arterial streets.

Estimating funds at $6.50 per capita, the committee said $15,000 or $16,000 could be obtained annually as the village's share of state motor fuel taxes for work on an estimated 4.36 miles of arterial roads.

A "conservative estimate" of three-fourths-cent per dollar sales tax revenue was given as $13,000. This amount now is collected in the proposed village area for the county treasury, the committee noted.

Lighting, Police, Zoning Once arterial streets are in good condition, the village could be sought to use MFT funds for street lighting, the gathering of advocates and foes was told.

Benefits outlined included 24-hour police protection, establishment of zoning ordinances and a zoning commission by the village board and fostering of "a spirit of pride and cooperation" among Chouteau residents.

Attorney Francis Manning said the village would be empowered to adopt a tax levy that would utilize a tax rate of up to 33% cents per $100 valuation for the general fund. Rates that could be utilized for other village funds were not listed.

Panel Debate Proposed A change was issued to opponents to take part in a public panel discussion on the incorporation proposal prior to the Feb. 26 special election. Each side would send several representatives to discuss the issues and answer questions.

Police equipment and services were described to the gathering by two police chiefs, Ed Bailey of South Roxana and Ed Jeff of Pontoon Beach.

Gene Knipping, village president of South Roxana, outlined services and tax advantages of forming a village and Terry Francis, a candidate for state representative, predicted rapid future growth in Chouteau township.

Voting requirements for the incorporation election were given as a year's residence in Illinois, 90 days in Madison county and 30 days in the village area. Voters still not have to be registered for the Feb. 26 vote but will have to be if there is a second election to choose officials, it was reported.

Restrictions on Foreign Travel

(U. S. Department of State)

What Constitutional or other legal right does the U.S. government have to restrict individuals going to countries (such as Cuba) for which their passports are not valid?

Clearly, the go with the U.S. government protection.

But if they do this of their own accord, and the recipient country (such as Cuba) welcomes them and extends its own protection to them, what U.S. laws have they violated?

It is not a personal right to travel as one pleases, so long as it does not give aid, comfort, etc., to a declared enemy (which Cuba is not), or with whom the U. S. is formally at war (which it is not with Cuba)?

T.C.

The legal authority of the Department of State to impose passport restrictions has been upheld by the Supreme Court in the case of Zemel v. Rusk, 381 U.S. 1 (1965).

The Court noted that the right to travel within the United States was constitutionally guaranteed but pointed out that considerations of safety or welfare of the area or the nation as a whole might warrant the quarantine of that area.

The Court extended this logic to international travel.

Thus, the right to travel, while recognized as a constitutional right is subject to qualification.

The Court held that the Passport Act of 1926 authorizing the Secretary of State to issue passports coupled with the administrative practice of many years in restricting, from time to time, the validity of passports with respect to certain areas — was ample authority for imposing the area restriction in question, i.e., Cuba.

The present regulations dealing with area restriction (22 C.F.R. 51.72) provide that passports may be invalidated for travel to restricted areas upon determination by the Secretary of State.

Dear Mr. C.:

As you probably know, the question of U.S. participation in the Trust Fund is under consideration in the House of Representatives.

We agree with you concerning the importance of our participation in the Trust Fund. The U.S. government has supported the establishment of the Trust Fund because it is a humanitarian endeavor with wide approval objectives of relief and assistance to the victims of apartheid.

It is for these reasons that the President has recommended to Congress that the U.S. make a financial contribution to the Trust Fund.

His recommendation is firmly supported by the Department of State.

Who Will Watch the Watchers?

(Lerner Newspapers, Chicago)

America was founded on free enterprise, on the idea of free and live.

But there are some Americans who don't believe in this. They believe that only those who share their ideas and beliefs should be allowed to express themselves, to go into business, to live.

A case in point is "In Sanity" a hippie button shop on Paulina, just north of Howard street. It has huge windows and doors broken. Why? Because it is different and because the area's residents feel it does not belong.

Yet these self-styled moralists disdain to work within the legality of the law. They are Americans, patriots, watchers over the neighborhood. And this store, which caters to the teenagers and the hip, does not meet the area's approval. And it must be removed.

The entrepreneurs of this establishment are keeping up with a fad, just as the owners of the speakeasies kept up with a trend in the 1920s. They are

Greater Use of Madison Recreation Grounds Likely Under New Proposal

The ambitious recreational project being undertaken by Madison Rotarians in cooperation with other groups and citizens can result in greatly increased use of the block containing the Madison memorial recreation center at Seventh street and Lee avenue.

At present, activity is confined to teenage, organizational and civil defense programs in the recreation building and to both organized and informal use of outdoor playground equipment.

The municipal swimming pool built along with two recreation centers and two wading pools through a bond issue two decades ago has been used by about 125,000 swimmers. Officials placed pool equipment repair and maintenance fifth on a priority list of desirable improvements and voted to follow the list in numerical order. Among the factors in their decision was that the pool had never attracted sufficient use to meet its operating costs. The equipment since has deteriorated and much of it would have to be replaced before the pool could be reopened.

The city's current position is that it is willing to sell the pool at a reasonable price but that it should not be given away, since it represents a big investment by taxpayers. Lacking any buyers, the municipality is willing to see the pool filled in and covered with an assortment of volleyball, tennis, badminton, basketball, horseshoe and shuffleboard courts.

The playground and the recreation center are to continue in use, with the building affording shower and locker facilities for those using the nearby asphalt-surfaced courts.

By raising the funds publicly, Madison clubs can assure an adequate economic outlook without serious concern over the precise amount of use, although it is a good assumption that the outdoor athletic area will be kept busy. There will be no further bond debt to retire, and municipal officials are prepared to finance supervision and future maintenance.

ZIP CODE DESIGNED TO REDUCE MAIL HANDLING

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on your Jan. 25 editorial page article, "Zip Code Not Zipping Very Fast."

It stated that the zip code does not speed up the mail. I am employed as a postal clerk at the Alton post office; let me give you some information the author of the article lacks. He wrote five letters to Hollywood, Calif., using different zip codes. He was told that all his letters arrived at the same time, not because zip codes mean nothing, but because the efforts made on duty was on his toes, taught the error and put each letter in the right place regardless of the wrong zip code.

All clerks know the zip of the major cities in the U.S.—Chicago, St. Louis, New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, etc. When one comes through, they know immediately where to put it.

If he had addressed his letter to a small town in Nebraska with the wrong zip and one with which we were unfamiliar, it would have taken more time to arrive because we would have been confused by the zip code not corresponding with Nebraska zip.

This additional information may be helpful to readers: Zip stands for Zone Improvement

Meeting of All Interested Parties

Might Settle Apartment Disagreement

As suggested here last week, a meeting of all affected parties undoubtedly would be helpful in resolving the zoning question delaying part of the 128-unit Granite City Village Apartments.

There are indications that all council members would prefer to avoid overcrowding the $1,300,000 development if this can be accomplished without hardship on residents of the neighborhood. A 765x526-square-foot area is desirable but the building has to be squeezed into 128x26 feet unless the City Plan Commission's unanimous rezoning recommendation is approved.

We are convinced there is a basis for compromise leading to authorization of the project. The initial permit issued last week has little or no bearing on the matter because it relates to construction in an area not in controversy.

There would be no need for the developer expressed willingness to guarantee free and adequate maintenance of a 100x526-foot green buffer zone offered to the city.

This would be a fine gesture, and the resulting parkway would not totally rule out neighbors' hopes that the territory eventually will attract new homes; whether such hopes are realized is primarily an economic issue outside of governmental purview.

Landfill Problem Still Unsolved, Studies May Need to Be Accelerated

Voluntary closing of the Chouteau Island Landfill Thursday night temporarily solves the issue of non-compliance with dumping regulations but raises the question of where garbage and trash can be taken. Madison county, Port district and municipal feasibility studies of incinerator, landfill and composting proposals may have to be expedited this spring.

The closing was necessitated by adverse weather, which has hampered equipment and created a "sea of sludge" in the landfill. A five-day cleanup order issued Wednesday by county inspectors.

The Illinois Department of Public Health last week had sent notification of apparent violations, resulting in a cease-and-desist order, and the operators also faced the possibility of an injunction suit being filed.

Until regular covering of newly dumped material can be carried out by owners, the closing seems appropriate; applicable state and county laws are reasonable and are based on health requirements. But an overall answer to the problem remains to be found.

A helpful invention would be a device that could cause people to break bad habits as easily as good promises.

Bed Space Problems at Local Hospital

The shortage of bed space at the local hospital is being keenly felt, it was reported today by Mrs. Dorothy Larner, chief admissions clerk.

"For the past four weeks we have been forced to re-schedule admissions of our patients who are coming in for work-up or diagnosis," she added.

Emergencies are the only admissions which are accepted immediately, making a real hardship on the patient, doctors and the hospital.

During the winter months medical patients usually require more of the hospital's beds than surgical patients.

"This is not true this season since surgical patients are occupying about 50% of the beds, as more extensive surgery is being done at the hospital," Sister Mary Thomas, hospital administrator said.

"The expansion set to begin this year and completed in 1970 will alleviate the situation somewhat," the Sister added. "But we still need to raise enough money to construct another 50 bed nursing floor before we can really meet the community needs."

The total capacity after the expansion is expected to be 310 beds. Dr. Anthony Rourke, the hospital's consultant, has estimated that 340 beds should be provided by 1975.

State Seeks Employees For Various Positions

Miss Maude Myers, director of the State Department of Personnel, has announced a special recruitment drive to fill existing vacancies in state jobs and to establish eligibility lists.

"The Personnel Department is seeking the best possible people to staff agencies and departments," she said. "A career in Illinois state government offers a wide choice of jobs, fitting every kind of training and experience. You will find work of an interesting nature, good starting salaries and excellent promotional opportunities."

Miss Myers said that positions exist throughout Illinois, and interested persons with training, education and experience in any of the positions covered by the State Merit System should apply to Robert P. Gossnell, Recruitment Supervisor, Department of Personnel, 623 East Adams street, Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Positions and salary ranges which may interest Madison county residents include employment counselor I, $580 to $747; employment counselor II, $615 to $805; intermittent claims examiner, $315 to $490; laundry worker, $300 to $435; and unemployment claims deputy I, $570 to $720.

Mandamus Suit Against Madison Board Dismissed

A mandamus suit against the Madison board of education seeking to force it to reinstate an expelled student was dismissed last week by Associate Circuit Judge I. H. Streeper at Edwardsville.

Judge Streeper, however, granted the plaintiff leave to file an amended complaint within 30 days, and the school board an additional 15 days to answer any amended complaint.

The suit was filed Jan. 12 for John Love, a Madison high school student, by his parents, for "gross disobedience and misconduct."

Sylvester L. Carter, an attorney for the Legal Services Society who filed the complaint, claimed that Love was denied due process of law under the constitution and that the board's action was an abuse of its discretion on the basis of the facts presented.

Grounds for dismissal was that the petition itself did not set forth a factual cause showing abuse of discretion by the school board.

Carter is expected to file the amended petition alleging details of such abuse and to stress more strongly the constitutional provisions.

In filing a dismissal motion, John Gitchoff, school board attorney, said the petition showed no facts indicating arbitrariness, capriciousness or bad faith. The board's decision was grounded in discretion, he added, and the courts are only justified for an abuse of discretion.

Gitchoff also said that the Illinois school code cites that after notice to the parents, they will appear with the board of education to "discuss the behavior" of the student. The statutes, he said, do not contemplate a formal hearing, a report of proceedings, the appearance of witnesses or an opportunity to cross examine.

SIU-SW in Project to Aid Physics Teachers

The two campuses of Southern Illinois University are among six institutions participating in the Illinois State Physics Project, a cooperative statewide program intended for high school physics teachers.

The project, designed to enroll at least 180 teachers now teaching physics in Illinois, consists of two parts: a six-week summer institute and a 15-session in-service program continuing throughout the 1968-69 school year. Others participating are Lake Forest College, DePaul University, Eastern Illinois University and Western Illinois University.

Supported by grants of more than $270,000 from the National Science Foundation, the project is designed to help physics teachers develop teaching methods and to promote related activities that will provide students with a series of classroom and laboratory experiences.

William E. Nickell, director of the Summer Institute at SIU in Carbondale, said the SIU program will place emphasis on classical and nonclassical physics through lectures and laboratory demonstrations.

Psychiatric Nursing Course to Begin Today

A psychiatric nursing course will begin at 6:30 p.m. today at St. Elizabeth Hospital under the direction of Jerry Staten, executive director, Madison County Mental Health Society, Quad-Cities center.

The course will consist of 16 sessions held at 6:30 p.m. every other Monday evening. For the convenience of nursing personnel unable to attend evening classes, each session will be repeated the Wednesday afternoon following the regular Monday class at the clinic center.

Instruction is designed to give the nurse working in a non-psychiatric unit the tools to care for the emotional needs of patients admitted for other than mental disorders.

Staten, a psychiatric social worker, completed his undergraduate study at Southern Illinois University and received his master's degree from St. Louis University.

He joined the staff of Alton State Hospital as a psychiatric social worker in June 1968. In 1964 he became associated with the outpatient clinic of the Madison County Mental Health Clinic Inc. at Alton, and in July of 1966, he accepted the position of executive director of the county society. Each of the sessions may include lectures, films, group sessions and discussion periods. Other members of the clinic center staff will assist, including psychiatrists, psychologists and psychiatric social workers.

ASCS Office Offering Measurement Service

The requests may be filed now or concurrent with commodity program sign-ups to be held Feb. 5-March 15, if acres are to be measured before planting time. The ASCS county office will have trained men do the measuring at the actual moderate cost.

Persons wanting measurement service before planting should request it early, Rogers said. Any questions about the service may be answered in the county office at Edwardsville.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-14 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Pvt. Painter is the son of Mrs. Daisy R. Painter, 1406 Grand avenue.

Increased Age Causes More Health Problems

The average American can expect to live 32 years longer than he could in 1900, according to Dr. Roger F. Sondag, head of the Illinois Public Health Department division of health care facilities and chronic illness.

He was one of five speakers at a workshop conducted Friday at the Southern Illinois University—Southern campus sponsored by the Mental Health Clinics and Specialized Services of Madison county in cooperation with the State Mental Health Department and the Madison County Association for Mental Health.

The added life expectancy has brought with it special problems for the aged, Dr. Sondag said.

"We are not yet equipped socially or emotionally in our thinking and planning to use the gift of additional years," he said, "resulting in frustration which 'sets the state for all manner of illness, both physical and emotional breakdowns.'"

One of the biggest problems is retirement by healthy Americans, he added. "Retirement can be rewarding or it can be deadly."

Retirement at 65 is a practice that should be up for retirement itself. The loss of a job when a man has often reached his finest hours may shorten a man's life. For many, it is a humiliating shock."

In 1900, he said, life expectancy was 47 years. Now it exceeds 70 years. Retirement does not involve "what one retires from, but what one retires to that determines the content of living at the summit of the years."

When a man retires from life, life retires from him," Dr. Sondag continued. "The retired-out of life, secluded, protected existence is dangerous since we weaken just when our horizons should be expanding."

Other speakers included Harold O. Swank of the Department of Public Aid, Cyril H. Winking of the Department of Children and Family Services and Dr. Robert A. Steek of the Department of Mental Health.

Mrs. Cavness, Mother of CG Resident, Dies
Funeral services were held Saturday for Mrs. Pearl Ann Cavness, 78, of Jonesboro, Ill., mother of three Granite City residents, with burial in the Jonesboro Cemetery. She died Thursday at Union County Hospital in Anna.

Survivors include two sons, Earl and Lloyd Cavness, both of Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Walter Herz, Granite City, and Mrs. Jimmie Courtright of Jonesboro, two sisters, a brother, 10 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Army Needs Nurses; Recruiting Center Here
The oldest military nurse corps in the world, the U. S. Army Nurse Corps, is celebrating its 75th anniversary during February, SFC Harold C. Prattle, local Army recruiter, pointed out.

Established in February 1901 as a result of the devoted efforts of civilian nurses employed by the U. S. Army, the corps has grown to include sick and wounded during the Spanish-American War, it was composed entirely of women until 1918, when men were accepted qualified male nurses, the recruiter added.

The mission of the all-officer corps is to provide the best possible nursing care to our country's servicemen and their families," Sgt. Prattle said.

Today, the continued buildup of our country's forces in Vietnam has created a critical shortage of nurses, and an effort to relieve this shortage, the Army Nurse Corps is offering qualified registered professional nurses assignments and assignments in the locations of their choice. Selections are made from the ranks of which vacancies exist, located throughout the continental United States and Alaska, Hawaii, Japan, Italy, Okinawa, Germany and Vietnam.

In addition, nurses may request assignment to any assignment whereby they are stationed at the same location as their spouse or a friend, or assigned to a particular clinical specialty.

Men and women of the Army Nurse Corps serve in all grades of commissioned and through colonel, depending upon their educational background, professional experience and physical fitness.

Selection criteria for appointment to the Corps emphasize personal, educational, moral and physical fitness of applicants. General eligibility requirements include admission to the United States Army Medical School, Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, prior to their assignment.

Army nurses have responsibilities for patient care, supervision and administration of medical services. Army nurses are asked to work in mobile field hospitals, they also are offered opportunities to work and study at some of our country's finest medical facilities. Professional education programs are conducted at Army hospitals on a continuing basis. Provisions are also made for advanced education in clinical nursing at the Army Medical School, Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, prior to their assignment.

Edward R. Phelps of Carlinville is asking $275 for 64 hours work $25 per hour, plus mileage and telephone expenses. His assistant, Douglas Marti of Greenville, billed the county for $211.50 hours of work at $25 per hour plus mileage.

Bartlyak last month was granted five years probation and fined $1000 after pleading guilty to official misconduct in connection with his law firm work. He was in office. Sixteen counts of theft were dismissed.

SIU Plans Book Series On Journalism Horizons

Southern Illinois University Press is announcing a newly-originated series, "New Horizons in Journalism," with its first book, "Journalism: A History," by Howard R. Long, chairman of the SIU Department of Journalism.

The projected volumes will cover perspectives in modern journalism, historical accounts of reporting, specialized publications, legal problems of newspaper publishing and history of the British Press Council, and will also branch into aspects of mass media "press."

The scope will be international, with emphasis on American and British publishing.

The advisory board includes Irving Dillard, professor of Journalism at Princeton University; James S. Pope, former executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, and Donald Tyeerman, former editor of The Economist, London.

Robert Ford in 1968 Primary For State Rep.

Robert L. Ford, assistant supervisor of Wood River township since 1963, announced today his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as state representative in the June 11 primary election.

In his announcement, Ford said that he has been a "registered Democrat" all his voting life, but that he does not favor "the course of action my party has been following on the state and national level and believe that it is time for a change in leadership."

Ford, who is employed in the accounting division of American Oil at Wood River, said he believes the Illinois Legislature should meet annually to adequately serve the people and said he favors equal opportunity in housing, food, employment and education for all residents of Illinois.

He advocates the lowering of the voting age to 18, not only "it is unfair to draft our young men to be killed on foreign soil when they are denied the right to vote in the state," but, "therefore we should either lower the voting age or raise the draft age to 21."

The candidate said he also favors repealing the entire "antiquated system" of personal property and real estate taxes and substituting a graduated income tax in their place.

"There are many aged and retired citizens in the state who are living in limited income from Social Security or meager pensions who cannot afford to pay their taxes."

He said he is opposed to the Illinois gun registration law. "It should be repealed," he said, "and I will support only the 'common sense' laws that will benefit the citizens of Illinois and not those that discriminate against or penalize the honest, law-abiding citizens."

In addition, he plans to devote full time to the office if elected, "and not use the position for the purpose of 'moonlighting' activity or part-time job. The salary justifies full-time devotion to these legislative duties."

Ford, who is 41, has been employed 18 years in the accounting division of American Oil. He holds a bachelor of science degree from Southern Illinois University. He served with the U. S. Army in France and Germany during World War II and is a member of the VFW. He is married and has three daughters.

Ford is vice-president of ROWU Local 15 and has served as refinery United Fund Treasurer at American Oil for several years.

The scope will be international, with emphasis on American and British publishing.

Robert Ford in 1968 Primary For State Rep.

Robert L. Ford, assistant supervisor of Wood River township since 1963, announced today his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as state representative in the June 11 primary election.

In his announcement, Ford said that he has been a "registered Democrat" all his voting life, but that he does not favor "the course of action my party has been following on the state and national level and believe that it is time for a change in leadership."

Ford, who is employed in the accounting division of American Oil at Wood River, said he believes the Illinois Legislature should meet annually to adequately serve the people and said he favors equal opportunity in housing, food, employment and education for all residents of Illinois.

He advocates the lowering of the voting age to 18, not only "it is unfair to draft our young men to be killed on foreign soil when they are denied the right to vote in the state," but, "therefore we should either lower the voting age or raise the draft age to 21."

The candidate said he also favors repealing the entire "antiquated system" of personal property and real estate taxes and substituting a graduated income tax in their place.

"There are many aged and retired citizens in the state who are living in limited income from Social Security or meager pensions who cannot afford to pay their taxes."

He said he is opposed to the Illinois gun registration law. "It should be repealed," he said, "and I will support only the 'common sense' laws that will benefit the citizens of Illinois and not those that discriminate against or penalize the honest, law-abiding citizens."

In addition, he plans to devote full time to the office if elected, "and not use the position for the purpose of 'moonlighting' activity or part-time job. The salary justifies full-time devotion to these legislative duties."

Ford, who is 41, has been employed 18 years in the accounting division of American Oil. He holds a bachelor of science degree from Southern Illinois University. He served with the U. S. Army in France and Germany during World War II and is a member of the VFW. He is married and has three daughters.

Ford is vice-president of ROWU Local 15 and has served as refinery United Fund Treasurer at American Oil for several years.

U. S. Guarding Working Rights of Vets—Price

Cong. Melvin Price, (D) East St. Louis, today commended President Johnson for his continuing concern for a returning veteran's right to reemployment upon reentry into civilian life. Cong. Price pointed out that the President noted in his special message to Congress that "those returning to old jobs have rights protected under the law."

Price said the President's clarification provisions of the Military Service Act of 1945, which reemployment rights, is a natural component of the President's total legislative package aimed at providing returning veterans. Under the present law a serviceman has his reemployment rights if he is active duty for more than four years.

Cong. Price's bill amends those provisions so that those rights up to five years of active duty if service is at the request of the government.

Price said he will not get through the Senate, Price said he plans to bring the bill before the Armed Services Committee as soon as the schedule will permit.

58th Boy Scout Week Will Be Observed on Feb. 7-13

The Cahokia Mound Council will observe Wednesday, Feb. 7, through Tuesday, Feb. 13, as Boy Scout Week, marking the 58th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

There is that "Scouting rounds you out," Council President Carl E. Mathias, Illinois Power Co. service area manager, explains that "scouting rounds you out" by challenging his mind and muscle and giving him an opportunity to develop self-confidence.

"Since 1910, there have been 44 million Americans identified with the Boy Scouts of America," Council President Carl E. Mathias, Illinois Power Co. service area manager, explains that "scouting rounds you out" by challenging his mind and muscle and giving him an opportunity to develop self-confidence.

"With few exceptions, America's astronauts have been active in scouting."

"During Boy Scout Week, the Cahokia Mound Council will observe Wednesday, Feb. 7, through Tuesday, Feb. 13, as Boy Scout Week, marking the 58th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America."

Relevant to 1968 Needs
Today, one of every four American boys is a cub scout, boy scout or explorer.

Scouting strives to have a scout unit within reach of every boy and to keep these units effective in attaining their purposes of character development, citizenship training, and mental and physical fitness. Scouting maintains a forward-looking program that is relevant to today's needs for the world in which we live.

The Cahokia Mound Council, with a total membership of 4050 boys, is chartered by the Boy Scouts of America to administer the scout program in the Bond and Madison county areas.

The council officers include as vice-presidents Dr. H. W. Gram, Howard K. Kaseberg, Rollin Henn, George T. Mathias, and Victor D. Dretzel.

"Treasurer is Albert Fromm, council commissioner is William Shindel and council executive is Eugene Coe."

The Cahokia Mound Council is divided into three districts, with the Quadra area being the Unimac district. Unimac has 1051 cub scouts in 33 packs, 736 boy scouts in 26 troops, and 194 explorers in 15 posts. This is a new membership peak.

44 million members. Today there are enrolled in scouting's ranks nearly 45 million boys who are aided by over 215 million adult volunteer leaders.

"Cub scouts are eight, nine and 10 years of age. At their weekly den meetings, cub scouts play games, sing, learn new skills and prepare for the monthly meeting of their pack. The cub scout earns advancement by working with his parents and leaders."

"Scoutcraft, ceremonies, games and preparing to live outdoors highlight weekly scout troop meetings. Boy scouts can find fulfillment for their love of the outdoors by hiking and camping. They can earn recognition for good character and growing skills by advancing through five ranks."

"At each step the boy is tested in scoutcraft skills by scout patrol leader, and in merit badges - awards for special skills - by special counselors. Merit badges range from such skills as cooking, lifesaving, first aid and camping to technical subjects such as space exploration, communications, cartography and atomic energy."

"The high-school-age boy in scouting pursues such special interests as medicine, law, electronics or whatever interests him as he prepares for manhood."

"As scouting helps boys grow in character, physical fitness and citizenship, it also contributes to the national growth of boys and nation. Scouting certainly does round a guy out."

Home from Safari—Ready to Go Again

You can take Darrell Layman's word for it. Big game hunting on the East African veldt is "the most wonderful vacation trip in the world."

And Darrell, who has the experience—and trophies—to prove it. Layman, who lives on Old Alton road and is general superintendent of the James Green Construction Co., has just returned from a three-week trip abroad that included a one-week safari into the African jungles and plains of the area of Tanzania near the foothills of Mount Kilimanjaro.

He brought back nine fine animal trophies—two of which found places in the record books—countless photographs and an enthusiastic decision to start planning his next trip. He already has set the date for October 1970.

Nothing Like It
"That is the most beautiful country in the world," there's nothing quite like it," Layman recalled as he told of the large herds of antelope, gazelles, wildebeest, zebras and other animals that roamed the plains.

"The next trip, though, is going to be longer . . . at least three weeks," he said. "I was told that during a three week safari with a good professional hunter I could get a trophy of every major animal species in Africa, including lion, elephant and leopard."

Layman's safari followed stopovers of several days each at London, Paris and Rome, on which he was accompanied by James C. Green, Quad-City building contractor who originally planned to accompany Layman on the African safari, and Ernie Eskelin of St. Louis, an Assembly of God missionary whose tales about Africa had prompted Layman and Green to "quit planning a trip" and really do something about it. Eskelin, who made the safari with Layman, has made five trips to Africa, Green noted.

Visited London, Paris, Rome
Layman and Green began their trip Jan. 6, taking a Pan American Airlines plane from Lambert Field to New York where they remained two days in New York, then flew to London, a flight that took seven and a half hours. They passed two days in London, moved on to Paris for another two days of sightseeing and then flew to Rome.

After two days in Rome and as time neared to fly by East African Airways into the African hunting country, Green decided to forego the safari.

"I began worrying about business and felt I should get back," Green said.

Layman and Eskelin flew to Nairobi in the state of Kenya and from there to Arusha in the state of Tanzania where arrangements had been made by Eskelin to set up the safari.

"We ran into a snag right away and it didn't look at first as if we could make the hunting trip," Layman related. "When we got to Arusha, we learned that all of the professional hunters were on safaris. Without a professional hunter it is impossible to do any real trophy hunting on a major scale."

Safari Returned Early
Layman said that he and Eskelin were planning to do a little hunting in the countryside around Arusha, on their own, when one of the safari guides returned a week ahead of schedule. Arrangements were made with professional hunter Thomas Lithgow, an Englishman, for a one-week trip into Great Rift Valley near the base of Mount Kilimanjaro.

The safari is the only efficient way to hunt, Layman explained, because of the equipment and help needed to make a prolonged trip into jungles or the plains country.

"In addition to the professional hunter," Layman said, "we had a tracker and 12 porters carried by two trucks. It took us a full day to ride into the valley. That left us five days hunting with nothing to do but move out of the area."

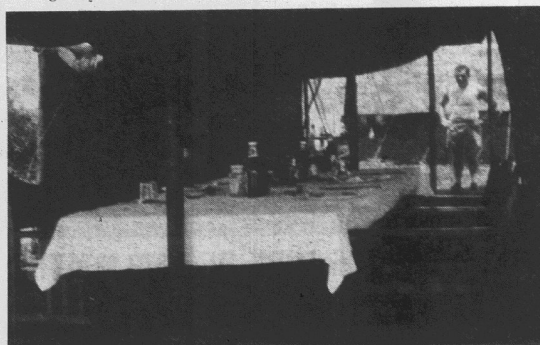

Plenty of Game
"We set up camp in an area that had plenty of game," he related, "but the hunter doesn't let a person shoot just anything. The hunter and tracker

SAFARI TROPHIES taken by Darrell Layman (left) in East Africa, are shown here by Layman, Ernie Eskelin, St. Louis, and Thomas Lithgow, professional hunter who took the two men into Great Rift Valley near Mount Kilimanjaro. The animal skulls and hides were treated by safari porters and shipped to a St. Louis taxidermist for mounting. Layman lives on Old Alton Road near Mitchell.

ZEBRA WAS AMONG early trophies taken by Darrell Layman, right, Quad-Cities, who just returned from a three-week trip abroad and one-week hunting in East Africa. With Layman is Thomas Lithgow, white hunter and leader of safari. One of two trucks needed to carry men and equipment is in background.

are aware of what is and what is not a good trophy and they can pick a particular animal that is worth going after."

Layman said that in his five days he shot nine good trophies, a zebra, an impala, an Eland, a Grant gazelle, a Tompouso gazelle, an Orix, a lesser kudu, a wildebeest and a garinuk.

He said he was impressed by the fact that nothing goes to waste. "As soon as a kill is made, the porters skin the animal, treat the hide for shipment. The meat is divided among the porters and natives. They boil the skull to remove the meat after skinning, then salt the skull for packing."

Layman and Eskelin followed the same flight pattern on their return, through Rome, Paris and London to New York. Layman arrived home Jan. 27.

Licenses of three Granite City drivers have been suspended by Secretary of State Paul Powell.

They are Larry G. Odum, 3008 Marshall avenue, and William L. Price, 1243 Klein street, Venice, for three violations, and Alvie E. Hotsford, 2046 Edwardsville road, Madison, for permitting fraudulent use of a license.

Student Responder Unit Shown to SIU Trustees

Southern Illinois University trustees were given a special demonstration recently of SIU's new electronic Student Responder System designed especially for the university by General Electric Co.'s research and development center in Schenectady, N. Y.

The basic equipment consists of a pushbutton keyboard for each of 31 students, a master control console for the instructor, and a teletype terminal which can transmit either manually typed or automatically punched data via long distance telephone line directly to a G. E. computer in Chicago.

The computer is programmed to feed back whatever information is required in a matter of seconds.

This enables the instructor to quiz the students, check the accuracy of their answers and obtain various types of information instantaneously.

It also gives the instructor an instant check-up on whether his points are getting across to the class. If not, he can go back and elaborate or emphasize certain points until a satisfactory response is elicited.

In use 40 hours per week, the responder-equipped classroom is used by 13 instructors with about 800 students. Some of the courses being taught are measurements in behavioral change, educational statistics, accounting, oral interpretation of literature and educational psychology.

It promotes a closer and more personalized relationship of literature and educational psychology in large classes.

Tax Forms Should Have Been Received By Now

Taxpayers who have not received a pre-addressed 1967 tax return form and instruction booklet through the mail should obtain the appropriate tax forms from the nearest Internal Revenue Service office, post office or bank, Jay G. Philpott, district director for central and southern Illinois, said today.

Federal individual income tax packages were mailed the last week of December and first week in January to all taxpayers who filed returns last year.

If a taxpayer who filed last year has not received the 1967 tax forms by now it can be assumed that something has happened to the package and it is unlikely that one will be received. In many instances, the taxpayer did not receive his package because he moved during the year and left no forwarding address.

Philpott's advice to taxpayers who did not receive a tax form package and to persons filing tax returns for the first time is that they obtain the necessary forms and carefully enter their name, address and social security number. These taxpayers will not experience any processing delays even though they did not have a pre-addressed label.

All taxpayers are cautioned to carefully check their returns before mailing to make sure the return is correct and accurate. Errors cause delays, Philpott noted.

Taxpayers filing refund returns who did not receive a pre-addressed envelope should address their envelope to the Internal Revenue Service Center, Kansas City, Mo. 64170. All other returns should be mailed to Internal Revenue Service, Springfield, Ill. 62704.

Illinois farmers and fishermen who did not file a declaration of estimated federal income tax by Jan. 15 may have a tax deadline in February.

Philpott said, "If you earned at least two-thirds of your 1967 gross income from farming or fishing but did not file an estimate by Jan. 15 you must file your 1967 Federal income tax return, Form 1040, and pay any tax due by Thursday, Feb. 15, to avoid penalty for underpayment of estimated tax."
